Claims 1, 3, 9, 10, 12, 18, 33, 35, 36, 37, and 40 are amended to correct formal matters without changing the scope of the claims. For example, claim 1 is amended to provide antecedent basis to “gaming unit”, “player’s available credit”, “minimum wager amount”, “predetermined progressive jackpot winning outcome”, and ‘range’. Claim 3 is amended to provide antecedent basis to “predetermined progressive jackpot winning outcome”. Claim 9 is amended to provide antecedent basis to “maximum wager”. Claim 10 is amended to provide antecedent basis to “gaming unit”, “player’s available credit”, and to “predetermined progressive jackpot winning outcome”. Claim 12 is amended to provide antecedent basis to “predetermined progressive jackpot winning outcome”. For example, the change to the reference numeral ‘752’ in Figure 16A is described in paragraph 101 as “[t]he routine 750 may continue as previously discussed for routine 700 until control passes to a block 752 wherein the network computer 22 may randomly draw all seventy-five numbers to determine the order for the entire ball draw”. The change to the reference numeral ‘762’ in Figure 17A is described in paragraph 104 as “[t]he routine 760 may continue as previously discussed for routine 700 until control passes to a block 762 wherein the network computer 22 may randomly draw one number from the range of 1 to 75”. The change to the reference numeral ‘772’ in Figure 18A is described in paragraph 106 as “[t]he routine 770 may continue as previously discussed for routine 700 until control passes to a block 772 wherein the network computer 22 may randomly draw a batch of numbers from the range of 1 to 75”.

Further, Figure 33, reproduced below, shows an example of the amended description of “a secondary pattern set 1020 containing secondary patterns 1022-1038 corresponding to the 12 credit through 20 credit award amounts of pay group 2” in paragraph 156.
